July is upon us...

..and what a month it has been for sport: Wimbledon, Euro 2020, and now The Olympics. With these large scale events, we are able to test the management of big groups and Covid. Of course, different areas of the world are suffering to varying degrees but opening things up where possible does allow for the world to test the new normal, and apply what works to those worse affected areas when they are ready to emerge and rebuild.

At FGG we are working to help others rebuild how we can. Our Return To Play initiative where we support our member organizations getting back to in person sport and culture is available; pre-registration rates for Gay Games 11 Hong Kong 2022 are rising and we encourage you to pre-register via the links below; we are planning for our Annual General Assembly (AGA) this November which has relocated from Hong Kong to Brighton, UK due to travel restrictions; the Site Selection team will start its work to review and assess the 3 finalist bid cities for 2026; and our Marketing team invites you to get involved in contributing your thoughts and ideas to our FGG 40th anniversary campaigns.

Be sure to check out the great content in this month's newsletter and let us know your stories as you venture back into the world and into your realms of sport and culture.
